NEW BASIS OF COMPILING TRADE STATISTICS

Trade can conveniently be recorded at two points. One is the national frontier, the point at which goods enter into or pass beyond the control of the national government. The other is the "customs frontier", the point at which imports leave customs supervision or exports enter it. Records taken at the national boundary are known as "General Trade" statistics; records taken at the customs boundary as "Special Trade" statistics. Statistics of the same trade compiled in these two ways can differ in both magnitude and timing.

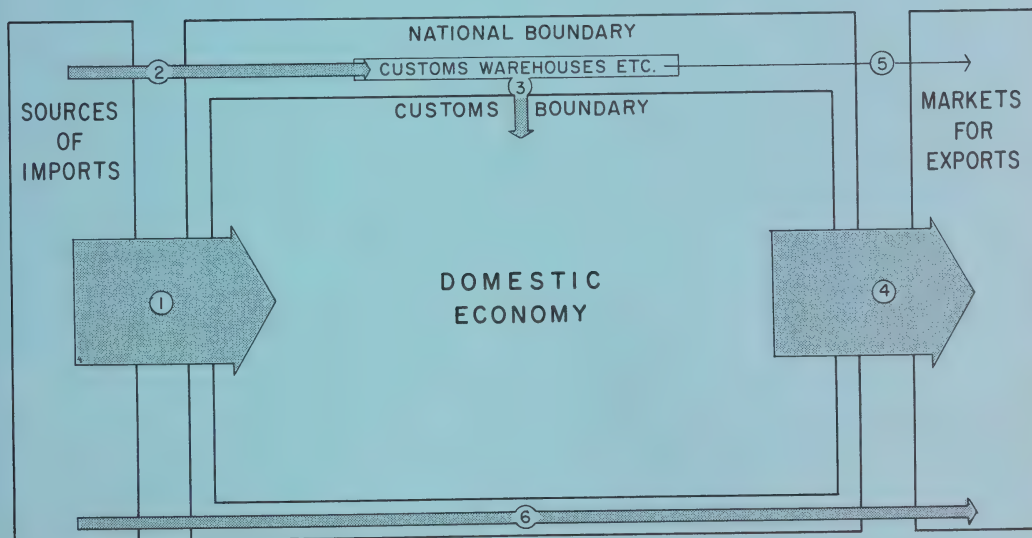

The chart below illustrates the principal flows involved in these two systems of compiling trade statistics. The arrows in the chart indicate the following movements of goods:

- (1) Most imports cross the national boundary and are immediately (or within a few days) cleared through customs for domestic use.
- (2) A growing proportion of imports crosses the national boundary and is then stored in a customs warehouse under customs supervision, rather than being cleared for domestic use. Some countries also have "free ports" and bonded processing establishments which are analogous to customs warehouses, but these are not now used in Canada.
- (3) Most of the goods stored in customs warehouses are eventually cleared through customs for domestic use, but only after some weeks or months have passed.
- (4) Most exports leave the domestic economy and immediately pass beyond the national boundary.
- (5) A small proportion of exports consists of goods entered into customs warehouses and later re-exported without ever having been cleared for domestic use.
- (6) Direct transit trade consists of goods which enter the national territory with the purpose of passing to some other country. These goods remain under customs supervision as long as they are within the national boundary. There are no statistical records of this movement.

Until 1964, Canada's trade statistics were of the "Special Trade" type. Imports therefore included the movements indicated by arrows 1 and 3, exports the movement indicated by arrow 4. As of January 1, 1964, Canada's trade statistics are being compiled on the "General Trade" basis. Imports therefore include the movements indicated by arrows 1 and 2, exports the movements indicated by arrows 4 and 5. Direct transit trade (arrow 6) is not included in statistics under either the Special Trade or the General Trade system.

Until recently it appeared to make little difference whether Canadian trade was recorded on one basis or the other. During the period 1952-1961, goods passing through customs warehouses fluctuated between 3.1% and 2.4% of all imports, and re-exports from customs warehouses exceeded $5 million only in 1952, 1953 and 1961. Although from 1955 there was an apparent growth in warehouse stocks each year, the amounts involved were small, exceeding $10 million only in 1956 and 1959.

This situation changed when surcharges were imposed on most imports in June, 1962, as a temporary exchange conservation measure. Importers who had not previously used customs warehousing facilities began to keep stocks in customs warehouses in the hope that the surcharges would be cancelled before the goods were required. In some cases importers found that this step reduced their costs, since money no longer had to be borrowed to pay import duties in advance of the time that goods were actually required. The result was a sharp increase in the proportion of imports passing through customs warehouses, an increase which continued even after the cancellation of the surcharges in April, 1963. Imports entered into customs warehouses rose from $143 million in 1961 to $188 million in 1962 and $284 million in 1963.

This change began to create statistical problems in the latter part of 1962. There was an increase in discrepancies between Canadian records of trade in certain commodities and the statistics of partner countries. This raised the question as to whether Canada's statistics would be more useful if related to actual goods movements rather than to the technicalities of customs clearance. When it became clear that the trend towards an increased use of customs warehouses was continuing even after the cancellation of the surcharges, it was decided to change the basis on which Canadian trade statistics were compiled.

Over a period of years, the totals of Canadian exports or imports will be almost the same on either the General Trade or Special Trade basis, because of the negligible size of exports ex-warehouse. There can be a significant difference in import totals for individual years because goods which are entered into warehouse in one calendar year may not be cleared until the following year, and warehouse stocks may fluctuate in size with movements in interest rates or in general business activity. There is likely to be a measurable change in the seasonal variation of monthly import totals. It is generally true that more goods are entered into customs warehouses than are cleared from warehouse during the months when the St. Lawrence system is open for navigation, and that more goods are cleared from than entered into warehouse when the St. Lawrence system is closed. The change in the basis of recording import statistics will therefore tend to accentuate the existing seasonal fluctuation of the import totals.

It will not be feasible to adjust detailed statistics of Canadian trade for 1963 and earlier years to the new basis. Totals calculated on both systems are being published in the monthly bulletin Summary of Foreign Trade (D.B.S. Catalogue No. 65-001). Other monthly and quarterly Trade of Canada publications show General Trade (new basis) figures for 1964, but comparative figures for 1963 and earlier years remain on the Special Trade basis on which they were originally compiled.

The following table presents import totals on the old and new bases for the period 1952-1963, and illustrates the main flows involved in this change of systems:

Year	Total Imports		Warehouse Trade				Warehouse Trade as % of Total Imports

THE NEW IMPORT COMMODITY CLASSIFICATION AND COMPARISONS WITH 1963 STATISTICS

This is the first issue of Imports by Countries to present commodity detail according to the new Import Commodity Classification which was introduced in January, 1964. Subscribers to this report were notified in the January-December 1963 issue that they could obtain one copy of Volume I of the new classification without charge from the Publications Distribution Unit of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. Any subscriber who requires a classification and has not yet ordered a copy should quote Catalogue No. 12-524.*

Three other references designed for use with the new Import Commodity Classification can be purchased from the Publications Distribution Unit of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics:

Import Commodity Classification - Volume II - Numeric Index Catalogue No. 12-525

A numeric index for Import Commodity Classification, Vol. I. Contains an abbreviated description and an alphabetic list of the principal contents of each commodity class. Approximately 17,000 terms are listed under 2,400 classes. An introduction describing the manual and its use is included. Price of $5.00 includes a reprint and revision service.

Import Commodity Classification - Volume III - Alphabetic Index Catalogue No. 12-526

An alphabetic index for Import Commodity Classification, Vol. I. The approximately 17,000 terms of Vol. II are here listed alphabetically with the appropriate commodity class or group number of each. An introduction describing the manual and its use is included. Price of $5.00 includes a reprint and revision service.

Convertibility Index of Customs Tariff Items to Import Commodity Classification Catalogue No. 12-527

A working manual listing the items of Schedule A of the Customs Tariff, and indicating the import commodity class(es) in which goods entered under each item are usually included. Designed primarily for persons who must complete customs import entry forms. An introduction describing the manual and its use is included. Price of $5.00 includes a reprint and revision service.

It is also planned to prepare a summary index to the new classification which will be distributed without charge to all subscribers to reports 65-006 and 65-007, but this index has not yet been completed.

The introduction of the new Import Commodity Classification creates serious difficulties in making accurate comparisons between statistics for 1964 and those for earlier years. The comparisons given in the body of this report are based on a careful study of data for two months (February 1961 and June 1963) which were coded to both the old and the new classifications and cross-tabulated. This study was supplemented by further studies of the content of the large "n.o.p." classes of the old classification, of office rulings, and of other unpublished records. The Convertibility Key for 1963 figures which was derived from these studies is presented in the following pages.

This key differs in several respects from the information presented in Vol. I of the Import Commodity Classification. In particular, the studies on which it is based are far more comprehensive than was the information available when the classification was prepared, and numerous errors in the original presentation have been corrected in this key. A difference in the purpose of the classification and the key also affects their content: in the classification is shown, for each new class, all the old classes from which an appreciable part of a new class might be derived; this was done to guide the work of the clerks preparing import statistics. The key, on the other hand, shows only those old classes from which a significant part of the value of each new class was derived; it is much more applicable to problems of statistical analysis.

* For changes made in the Import Commodity Classification since its publication see blue pages lxi-lxiv.

The key makes it possible to obtain accurate 1963 totals for all sections and divisions of the new classification. The extent of comparability at the group and class levels is shown in the following table:

Section	Groups			Classes
	Total Number	Number Comparable	Percent Comparable	Total Number	Number Comparable	Percent Comparable

The method whereby this key treats 1963 classes which do not convert readily to the 1964 classification is quite different from that used when the new export classification was introduced (see Cat. No. 65-003, 4th Quarter 1961). In this key all old classes which do not convert to a single new class but do fall entirely within a single new group are coded to the residual class of the group (where a 1964 group has no true residual class an artificial group residual class was created to take such values). All old classes which do not fall within a single new group but do fall within a single new division are coded to an artificial division residual class. All old classes which do not fall within a single new division were prorated among the divisions to which they pertain.

Whenever a prorated portion of such a class pertained entirely to one class in the division, and made possible a class level comparison, it was coded to the new class in question. Similarly, prorated portions pertaining entirely to a particular group, and completing a group level comparison, were coded to that group's residual class. If neither of these conditions was met, the prorated portions were assigned to the division residual class.

In two cases division-type residual classes were created at a sub-division level. For textiles proration was on the basis of three sub-divisions: yarn, thread, cordage and batts (groups 360-369), broad woven fabrics (groups 371-377) and other textile fabricated materials (groups 381-389). Three sub-divisions were also used for chemicals: inorganic chemicals (groups 400-405), organic chemicals (groups 406-413) and chemical products (groups 415-429).

While division and sub-division residuals always complete the value for the division or sub-division in question, a group residual class may or may not complete the value for the group. Footnotes in the Convertibility Key indicate whether or not group residuals complete group values.

The Convertibility Key has one major limitation: the analysis on which it is based was conducted at the class total level, not on the class-by-country level. It is nevertheless believed that the class level and division level comparisons derived from this key will be generally adequate for individual countries, and the figures in this report are based on that assumption.

CONVERTIBILITY KEY PROVIDING 1964 COMPARISONS FROM 1963 IMPORT STATISTICS

The following key shows, for each class of the new Import Commodity Classification, whether a comparison can be obtained from 1963 statistics and how reliable the comparison is believed to be. It also indicates where groupings of 1963 classes (or parts of 1963 classes) will complete comparisons for particular divisions or groups of the new classification. The columns of the key contain the following information:

1. Column 1, "1964 Class", shows the class code under which the figures referred to are presented in 1964 quarterly reports. The key lists all classes in 1964 numeric order.
2. Column 2, "1963 Class", shows the class code or codes under which the figures referred to were presented in 1963 reports. In some cases a percentage follows the 1963 class code, this indicates that only the specified proportion of the 1963 class is included under the relevant 1964 code.
3. Column 3, "Equivalence", contains an alphabetic code indicating the type of comparison and a numeric footnote reference when required. The alphabetic equivalence code is as follows:

Class Level Comparisons:

- a 1964 and 1963 statistics believed to be almost entirely comparable ($100 \pm 5\%$ discrepancy), within the limits of any qualifications set forth in footnotes.
- b 1964 and 1963 statistics believed to be substantially comparable, but with the 1964 class including only 85% to 95% of the goods embraced by the 1963 class or classes, and subject to any qualifications set forth in footnotes.
- c 1964 and 1963 statistics believed to be substantially comparable, but with the 1964 class including a somewhat broader range of goods than the 1963 class or classes (between 105% and 115%), and subject to any qualifications set forth in footnotes.

Group or Division Residuals:

- d Group residual classes which cover 1963 values known to fall within a specific group of the new classification but which can not be allocated to specific classes. Footnotes indicate in every case whether the group residual class completes the 1963 total for the group, and the quality of the resulting comparison.
- e Division residual classes which cover 1963 values known to fall within a specific division of the new classification, but which can not be allocated by class or group. They are identified by the terminal digits -00, the reading of the description usually ends with the word "residual", and are listed at the beginning of their respective divisions. Division residual classes always complete the 1963 value for the division. It is believed that "a" quality comparisons can always be made between division totals for 1963 and 1964.

428 - This allocation of 1963 classes 3097, 3345 and 3392 is based on two test months and the analysis of unpublished records, but may not be valid for individual months or quarters.

429 - 1963 value for class 961-68 is included with class 961-69.

430 - This allocation of 1963 classes 5714 and 6052 is based on two test months and the analysis of unpublished records, but may not be valid for individual months or quarters.

431 - 1963 value for class 961-74 is included with class 961-79.

432 - This allocation of 1963 class 7114 is based only on two test months, may not be valid for individual months or quarters.

433 - This allocation of 1963 class 8450 is based on two test months and the analysis of unpublished records, but may not be valid for individual months or quarters.

434 - 1963 value for class 970-99 is made up of imports classified on end use basis in 1963 (chiefly articles ex-warehoused for ships' stores) and which could not be converted accurately to a commodity classification. The goods formerly included in these classes would be classified by commodity in 1964 statistics.

Changes in Import Commodity Classification

Since publication of the Import Commodity Classification several changes have been necessary. The more important of these are outlined below so that those who wish may make hand changes to the classification. When reprints of these pages are made these changes will be included in the reprinted version.

EXPLANATORY NOTES

- 1. Source of Data: Import statistics are compiled from information appearing on customs import entries and invoices, except for data on electricity. Electricity imports are reported directly by the importing firms to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.
- 2. Time Periods: Import statistics for any month include all goods declared on import entries received at DBS during the calendar month, and on electricity reports received within the following calendar month. Most import entries reach DBS within a few days of the date that goods enter Canada, and delays rarely exceed one week. Electricity imports are usually included in statistics for the month in which these imports actually occurred.
- 3. Coverage: From January 1, 1964, import statistics include all goods which are cleared by Customs immediately on arrival in Canada, plus goods which are entered into customs warehouses rather than being cleared on arrival. For 1963 and earlier years import statistics included goods cleared immediately on arrival plus goods cleared for consumption out of customs warehouses. The two types of record eventually cover the same totals, except for a small amount of goods which is entered into customs warehouse and then re-exported. There may, however, be an important difference in the time at which warehoused goods are recorded as imports; some shipments which enter customs warehouses remain there for several months before clearance. A more detailed discussion of this change appears on one of the blue pages included in the January-March 1964 issue of this report.

Both in 1964 and in earlier years, import statistics exclude the following commodity movements: gold and gold products where the value of the gold content is 80% or more of the total value (a small amount of gold scrap in the form of jewellers' sweepings is included in class 258-99); current coin; settlers' effects; private donations and gifts; tourists purchases exempt from duty; goods imported by foreign armed forces or diplomats stationed in Canada (or brought back by Canadian armed forces or diplomats returning from postings outside Canada); temporary imports for exhibition or competition (and film imported for exhibition or processing or returned after exhibition or processing abroad); ships of British construction and registry imported for use in Canada, and ships and aircraft purchased for use as international carriers but not used to carry goods between points in Canada; bunker supplies and ships' stores purchased by Canadian vessels or aircraft abroad; generally, all temporary imports and goods merely moving in transit through Canadian territory.
- 4. Countries Credited: Imports are credited to the country from which the goods were first directed to Canada, except for goods of Central or South American origin consigned to Canada from the United States which are credited to the country of origin.
- 5. Quantities: Table 2 shows quantities in terms of the units specified for each class in the Import Commodity Classification, Vol. I. Where no unit of quantity is specified, the quantity columns are empty.

Units of weight or volume relate to the weight or volume of the goods, and exclude the weight or volume of any packing required for shipment except in certain special cases otherwise defined in the Customs Tariff. Units of number refer to the number of complete (or substantially complete) units imported, excluding parts (for any class where the recorded value includes both complete units and parts of these units, the average value per complete unit can not be calculated). "Ton" means 2,000 pounds avoirdupois, "Cwt." means 100 pounds avoirdupois.
- 6. Values: The value of goods imported is usually the value as determined for customs duty. The Canadian Customs Act generally requires the valuation of goods f.o.b. point of shipment in the country of export, but at least in recent years importers have often reported c.i.f. value for free goods or goods subject to specific rates of duty. An effort is made to ensure that f.o.b. values are consistently used in import statistics in the following cases: goods subject to dumping duty (from January, 1959); raw cotton and crude petroleum (from January, 1962, retroactive to January, 1961); raw sugar (from January, 1963, retroactive to January, 1961); all shipments individually valued at $100,000 or more (from January, 1964). Only about one-fifth of the value of imports is covered by these specific checks.
- 7. Abbreviations: Many descriptions of commodities used in this report are abbreviated or incomplete because of mechanical limitations. Full descriptions of all commodities appear in the Import Commodity Classification, Vol. I. The letters "n.e.s." mean "not elsewhere specified".
- 8. Revisions: All statistics in this report are subject to revision. Revisions to previous reports are published on coloured pages at the beginning of each quarterly report.

EXPLANATORY NOTES

1. Source of Data: Import statistics are compiled from information appearing on customs import entries and invoices, except for data on electricity. Electricity imports are reported directly by the importing firms to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.
2. Time Periods: Import statistics for any month include all goods declared on import entries received at DBS during the calendar month, and on electricity reports received within the following calendar month. Most import entries reach DBS within a few days of the date that goods enter Canada, and delays rarely exceed one week. Electricity imports are usually included in statistics for the month in which these imports actually occurred.
3. Coverage: From January 1, 1964, import statistics include all goods which are cleared by Customs immediately on arrival in Canada, plus goods which are entered into customs warehouses rather than being cleared on arrival. For 1963 and earlier years import statistics included goods cleared immediately on arrival plus goods cleared for consumption out of customs warehouses. The two types of record eventually cover the same totals, except for a small amount of goods which is entered into customs warehouse and then re-exported. There may, however, be an important difference in the time at which warehoused goods are recorded as imports; some shipments which enter customs warehouses remain there for several months before clearance. A more detailed discussion of this change appears on one of the blue pages included in the January-March 1964 issue of this report.

Both in 1964 and in earlier years, import statistics exclude the following commodity movements: gold and gold products where the value of the gold content is 80% or more of the total value (a small amount of gold scrap in the form of jewellers' sweepings is included in class 258-99); current coin; settlers' effects; private donations and gifts; tourists purchases exempt from duty; goods imported by foreign armed forces or diplomats stationed in Canada (or brought back by Canadian armed forces or diplomats returning from postings outside Canada); temporary imports for exhibition or competition (and film imported for exhibition or processing or returned after exhibition or processing abroad); ships of British construction and registry imported for use in Canada, and ships and aircraft purchased for use as international carriers but not used to carry goods between points in Canada; bunker supplies and ships' stores purchased by Canadian vessels or aircraft abroad; generally, all temporary imports and goods merely moving in transit through Canadian territory.

4. Countries Credited: Imports are credited to the country from which the goods were first directed to Canada, except for goods of Central or South American origin consigned to Canada from the United States which are credited to the country of origin.
5. Quantities: Table 2 shows quantities in terms of the units specified for each class in the Import Commodity Classification, Vol. I. Where no unit of quantity is specified, the quantity columns are empty.

Units of weight or volume relate to the weight or volume of the goods, and exclude the weight or volume of any packing required for shipment except in certain special cases otherwise defined in the Customs Tariff. Units of number refer to the number of complete (or substantially complete) units imported, excluding parts (for any class where the recorded value includes both complete units and parts of these units, the average value per complete unit can not be calculated). "Ton" means 2,000 pounds avoirdupois. "Cwt." means 100 pounds avoirdupois.

6. Values: The value of goods imported is usually the value as determined for customs duty. The Canadian Customs Act generally requires the valuation of goods f.o.b. point of shipment in the country of export, but at least in recent years importers have often reported c.i.f. value for free goods or goods subject to specific rates of duty. An effort is made to ensure that f.o.b. values are consistently used in import statistics in the following cases: goods subject to dumping duty (from January, 1959); raw cotton and crude petroleum (from January, 1962, retroactive to January, 1961); raw sugar (from January, 1963, retroactive to January, 1961); all shipments individually valued at $100,000 or more (from January, 1964). Only about one-fifth of the value of imports is covered by these specific checks.
7. Abbreviations: Many descriptions of commodities used in this report are abbreviated or incomplete because of mechanical limitations. Full descriptions of all commodities appear in the Import Commodity Classification; Vol. I. The letters "n.e.s." mean "not elsewhere specified".
8. Revisions: All statistics in this report are subject to revision. Revisions to previous reports are published on coloured pages at the beginning of each quarterly report.
